THE ELECTION.

The result of the contest yesterday is given in the local columns and is only a partial victory for the democracy and good government, but the city is in the hands of those who have its best interests at heart.

The defeat of Olmsted in the third ward was unexpected. He was one of the best alderman the city has had for a long time. Mr. Wigton, republican was elected. He is a mechanic in the M. & K. T. shops and is an upright man, but has no experience in city matters. He will do the best he can—he's that kind of a man.

In the second ward Con McHugh was defeated. When the democracy of the ward can put up a democrat of pronounced views he will be overwhelmingly elected. It is the strongest democratic ward in the city, but the democracy will not vote for a republican on the democratic ticket. Mr. Bosserman, republican, who was elected, has made a good alderman in the past and no doubt he will serve the city well.

In the first ward, Bell Hutchinson, a democrat takes the place of Mr. Young, republican. He will be an efficient man on the board.

In the fourth ward George Dugan, republican, is elected over Doyle, democrat. This is a republican ward. Dugan is a painter, well known with the necessities of the city and will be a useful member.

The democracy held its own. The council stands the same as it did last year—five democrats to three republicans. Nothing in that to dishearten anyone, regarding the welfare of the city. We will go on improving, paving streets, building sewers and progressing as we should.

We are all Sedalians.

A printer was unable to meet his financial engagements and his plant was sold out under execution. The creditors attended the sale and on inspection found six empty whiskey bottles in the cupboard of the proof press, says the Printers' Album, which cannot help expressing the belief that a large proportion of the business failures in this country are caused by indulgence in drinks that intoxicate. The habit of drinking throws the very best and strongest men off their guard at times, and leads them to an extravagance of expenditure both of time and money, that they would not be guilty of if they kept their self control. While there are thousands of men who can take an occasional drink and still curb their appetites, there are thousands and tens of thousands of others who cannot—who at the first taste of the intoxicant, drop their moral sensibilities, forget their families and the entire community and rush headlong to destruction. There is no safety save in total abstinence; for instances are not rare where men have been moderate drinkers for years, when the demoniac appetite would seem to take a sudden hold of them and send them down forever. We speak freely on the subject, for we have witnessed the downfall of many of our brightest friends and companions in whose road to fame and fortune stood no obstacle save their weakness and intemperance for strong drink and we recoil with horror when we see men to gratify an unnatural appetite, stand at the bar even though they assert that they do not make a practice of it. The strongest and the bravest and the best have succumbed before the awful destroyer and we beg, nay pray our friends to set their faces like a flint against the vice, to turn a deaf ear to those who would lead you astray to touch not, taste not, handle not the accursed cup which no matter how sparingly partaken of fastens its holds on its victims with the dreadful grip of a vampire and which is so destructive of all hope, all manhood and all that is pure and noble.

The BAZOO lost some of its candidates Tuesday but the new subscribers to the WEEKLY BAZOO continues to roll in at a lively gait. Nothing can stop the WEEKLY BAZOO's big boom.

All honor to Bell Hutchinson.

YOUNG MAN, THIS IS FOR YOU.

1. Save a part of your weekly earnings, even if it be no more than a quarter of a dollar, and put your savings monthly in a savings bank.

2. Buy nothing till you can pay for it, and buy nothing that you do not need.

A young man who has grit enough to follow these rules will have taken the first step upward to success in business. He may be compelled to wear a coat a year longer, even if it be unfashionable; he may have to live in a smaller house than some of his young acquaintances; his wife may not sparkle with diamonds, nor be resplendent in silk or satin, just yet; his children may not be dressed as dolls nor popinjays; his table may be plain but wholesome and the whiz of the beer or champagne cork may never be heard in his dwelling; he may have to get along without the earliest fruits or vegetables; he may have to abjure the theatre, the club room and the gambling hell, and to reverence the Sabbath day and read and follow the precepts of the better off life. Yes, he may do all these without detriment to his manhood, or health, or character. True, empty-headed folks may sneer at him and affect to pity him; but he will find that he has grown strong-hearted and brave enough to stand the laugh of the foolish. He has become an independent man. He never owes anybody, and so he is no man's slave. He has become master of himself, and a master of himself will become a leader among men, and prosperity will crown his every enterprise.

Young man! life's discipline and life's success come from hard work and early self denial; and hard-earned success is all the sweeter at the time when old years climb upon your shoulder and you need propping up.—Typographic Advertiser.

MISS BRANHAM THE MIDGE

A well known commercial man who makes Fayette every 30 days, gives our reporter a glorious description of the merchants' carnival given at the opera house in Paris, Mo., a few nights ago, by the Baptist ladies of that sleepy but pleasant old town. He said that forty young ladies appeared on the stage all dressed to the queen's taste. "Miss Nellie Branham, the cutest little midget in Missouri," said the drummer, "was voted the honor of the prettiest representation." Continuing he said, "let me give you a faint idea as to how pretty she looked: She represented a jewelry store. Her costume was a very delicate blue silk, made a plain princess, low neck and no sleeves, with roses of white silk tulle, centered with rhine stones, around the neck and skirt, shoulder straps of rhine stones set in silver; the whole dress was very gracefully draped in white tulle, with elegant diamond pins and ornaments. The name of the firm was on the front of her dress in diamonds; her necklace was of diamonds with pendant of emeralds and diamonds; white slippers with solid gold beads around the tops and diamond ornaments on the toes. She favored the audience with a beautiful recitation."

"Now," said the knight of the grip, "can you imagine a more lovely picture." We agreed that we could not. But suggested to our drummer friend that he quit the road, throw down his grip, and accept the position of society reporter for some fashion journal and give his descriptive powers a chance.—Fayette Democrat.

TRI-WEEKLY CLUB DANCE.

The Tri-Weekly Club Dance, given at the Opera House last night as a return compliment to Sedalia ladies and gentlemen who entertained Clinton parties several week ago, was the crowning effort of the season. The Sedalia guests arrived at 8:15 p. m., the train stopping in front of Hotel Woods, where they registered for the evening. Here they were met by a reception committee and every arrangement for pleasure and comfort. The Opera House was put in regulation trim for the assembled merry dancers, and under inspiration of Campbell's orchestra, the hours flew by swift and fast. Clinton was well represented by her charming ladies and gallant gentlemen, and quite a number of more mature years engaged in the merry dance or were admiring spectators. About 2 o'clock a splendid lunch was served at the South Side restaurant.

Sedalia was represented by Chas. L. Lyons and Miss Miles; Elliott Stafford and Miss Evans; Frank Hughes and Miss Antes; Mr. and Mrs. Swann; Mr. and Mrs. Woods; Harry Hollister and Misses Beck and Latour; Miss Kate Fuller, and Messrs. Widfield and Kehoe. Mr. M. P. Preston and lady, Mr. Webber and lady friend, and S. P. Banta, were present from Deepwater. Mrs. Dr. John Powers, of Ulrich was in attendance; also Lee Dunlap of Brownington and sister, and Miss Robinson, of Belton.—Clinton Democrat.

—Frank Avery, of this city, and M. F. Huggins, of New Haven, Mo., had a tilt this afternoon about 1 o'clock in Conway Bros. stable, during which the former struck the latter in the head with a hammer, inflicting a scalp wound. It seems that some time since Avery bought some trees from Huggins, who represented the Franklin County Nursery. The trees were delivered to-day at Conway's stable. Every claimed that they were not what he ordered, and demanded of Huggins the return of his money. A quarrel ensued, and the men soon came to blows. During the fight Avery struck his opponent a glancing lick on the head with a hammer just over the forehead. Huggins then secured a pitchfork and would probably have run it through Avery had not the latter warded it off with his hand. Huggins then dropped the fork and left. He appeared at Justice Miller's office and swore out a warrant, charging Frank Avery with an assault with intent to kill. The defendant was arraigned and waived preliminary hearing. He gave bail in the sum of $300, and will await the action of the grand jury.

WHAT CURED YOU?

Mr. B. P. McAllister, of Harrisburg, Ky., writes: "Having been a terrible sufferer from catarrh, and being now sound and well, the question often put to me is, 'What cured you?' In answer to this often put question I feel it my duty to state that Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) is the medicine. I am such a true believer in the efficacy of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) that I can honestly and conscientiously recommend it to any one suffering from catarrh. Have recommended it to many, and am happy to say that those whom I have induced to use it can bear me out in this statement. I also believe that it will cure any case of catarrh if taken according to directions."

CROP BULLETIN.

Mr. Levi Chubbuck, secretary of the state board of agriculture, issues this bulletin regarding crops for the week ending April 3, 1891:

Wheat, except in the southern part of the state where the wheat crop has begun to grow, is in nearly the same condition that it was in the beginning of the week. The cold, cloudy weather that has prevailed during the week has not been favorable to the growth of wheat, still it has suffered no injury.

Oats—Spring plowing and oat sowing have been carried on during the week in counties south of Vernon Pulaski, Crawford and Perry; elsewhere work has been delayed by rain and wet soil.

Corn planting has begun in some of the extreme southern counties.

Fruit—The cold of Thursday night may have some injurious effect on some fruits, but up to that time the prospects were favorable for an excellent crop.
